Vol 76 No. 32 Wednesday, August 7, 1968

WHENEVER A NEW DIrectory makes its appearance we always spend too much of our valuable (?) time browsing through its pages. Actually we don't even look for anything in particular. We just look. It's amazing how time-consuming that pasttime can become.

That's what happened this past week after the new R.L. Polk's "San Jose Subn. City Directory 1968" was delivered to the office.

The directory is practically the size of an encyclopedia, junior grade. It is much larger in every dimension than any previous issue.

"The San Jose Subn." etc. specifies that it includes Campbell, Cupertino, Los Gatos, Monte Sereno, Santa Clara and Saratoga and provides "useful and interesting information" about each city.

To justify to some extent the time we spent glancing through the directory, we made some jottings about the book which can be used in this column.

Thus the time then was not completely wasted.

Or maybe that is just a matter of opinion.

IN CONTRAST TO THE 1965 directory which we also have in our office, the 1968 version includes Cupertino and Santa Clara which naturally has added to the weight and size of this year's model.

Admittedly the directory is a big help to newspaper people as a cross-check on names and addresses. It has an alphabetical listing of business concerns and private citizens; a street and avenue guide, including a list of householders and occupants of buildings and, in addition, a numerical telephone directory.

Obviously these listings aid us considerably in pinpointing individuals whose names are to appear in the paper.

Of course there are times when it tends to make us a wee bit careless in covering meetings, etc.

Instead of being certain we have it right when someone mumbles his name at a meeting, sometimes we merely list our phonetic spelling of the name, i.e., if we get the correct address.

We assume that the directory will provide us with the correct dope.

But there are times, of course, when the directory lets us down. Maybe we expect too much.

Because of confusion resulting from overlapping boundaries, it is easy for those compiling the information to get mixed up over city streets.

THAT HAPPENED, FOR example, this year with Monica Lane north of Payne Ave.

That happened, for example, this year with Monica Lane north of Payne Ave.

Although Monica Lane north of Payne lies within the city limits of Campbell, the directory stops its listing of Campbell householders at Payne Ave.

It so happens that Bob Stephens, city manager, lives or that particular Monica Lane strip and it IS within the city limits of Campbell, with a San Jose mailing address. But it does not show in the new Campbell city directory as a city street.

A similiar thing happened in the 1965 book. E. Campbell stopped at midway. In the 1968 directory E. Campbell goes to Leigh as it should.

Incidentally, Bob Stephens feels so strongly about city department heads living within the city limits that he now has included it as part of the conditions of employment.

The first department head who has been hired since the condition was included is Arthur A. Kee, the newly-appointed planning director who takes office on Sept. 3.

McKee who is principal planner for the City of Sunnyvale, takes the place of Dick Hogan who resigned to accept the position as planning director of San Mateo.

McKee now lives in Sara-

BRIEFING FROM BOSS--City Manager Bob Stephens (left) points to area that will soon concern Art Kee, city's new planning director who takes office Sept. 3.

City gets new planning chief

ARTHUR A. KEE
--city planner

Arthur A. Kee, 35, principal planner for the City of Sunnyvale, has been selected as planning director for the City of Campbell, City Manager Bob Stephens has announced.

Kee, of 22501 Mt. Eden Road, Saratoga, succeeds Dick Hogan, who resigned in May to become planning director of the City of San Mateo. Kee will take office on Sept. 3.

Kee is a graduate of San Jose State with a B.A. degree in geography and has taken several courses at Cal in planning. He came to Sunnyvale as a junior planner in 1961 moving up to his present job as principal planner in Jan. 1966.

He served in the Navy from 1950 to 1953. He is married and has two youngsters.

His monthly starting salary, according to Stephens, will be $1,075.

Model boats churn water in Campbell

Miniature power boats churned the waters of the percolation pond adjacent to the county park in Campbell on Saturday and Sunday as the "high-powered" whine of roaring engines filled the air.

Hosted by the Marine Modelers of Santa Clara Valley, model boat owners from San Diego, Los Angeles, Bakersfield, Fresno, Sacramento, Concord and San Francisco and, of course, the Santa Clara Valley, participated in the two-day meet at which many records were broken.

On Saturday, speed record attempts were run for the 1/16 mile oval and the ¼-mile oval with 21 contestants entering 26 boats. Seven records were broken, two world and five west coast.

Record breakers included George Nagata, of Sunnyvale, ski boat; Ken Anderson, Bakersfield, ski boat; Dick Rowley, Campbell, ski boat; Roger Hooks, San Jose, hydro plane, and Jim Whitlarch, Los Angeles, hydro.

On Sunday, multi boat races were conducted divided into A, B and C classes.

Winners were: A class, Jack Anderson, L. A. first; Jim Gale, L. A., second and John Barton, Olivehurst, third.

B class: Jim Gale, L. A. first; Douglas Tucker, L. A. second; Steve Muck, L. A., third.

C class: Ernie Jaboneta, San Francisco, first; Dick Rowley, Campbell, second; Steve Stevens, L.A., third.

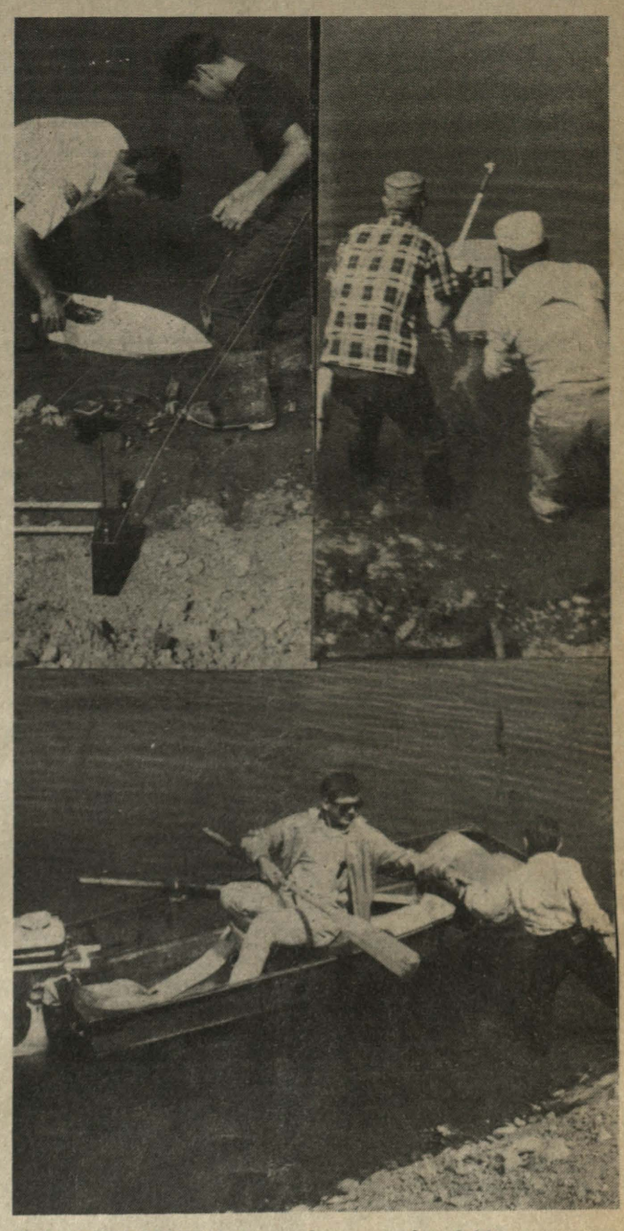
The Marine Modelers hold meets from 9 a.m. to noon each Sunday at the percolation pond off Camden Ave.

Vern Heisinger, of 74 S. Jane Ann Way, Campbell, is secretary-treasurer of the organization and can be contacted at 378-8979 for further information.

The high-speed boats, duplicates of their big brothers, are generally about three-feet long and are powered by engines averaging about 1.5 horsepower.

Some of the boats cost as much as $600 with much of the cost going for radio equipment with which the boat is controlled from the shore.

The two-day meet turned out to be a family affair for many of the modelers. Many of those who traveled from the southern part of the state brought their families with them.



HIGH-SPEED HOBBY--A two-day meet of model boat owners was held last weekend at the percolation pond adjacent to the county park in Campbell. In the top photo on the left Al Gonzales, and son, Paul, fail to get their boat roaring within the alloted time. In the other top photo, Red Blackford has better luck and away it goes.

In the lower photo, Vern Heisinger, of Campbell, secretary-treasurer of the Marine Modelers, hosts of the meet, sets off on a "rescue" mission to pick up a boat that has flipped.

City attorney ruling riles two Campbell planners

A surprise ruling by City Attorney Joe Bonacina that indirectly affected the proposed civic center tower and would prohibit the Planning Commission from issuing height variances in most instances, caused a near "blow-up" at the Planning Commission Monday night.

Two planning commissioners, in fact, rebelled so strongly against the attorney's ruling that they voted to override it.

But the four other commissioners present, Frank Klein, Kel Young, Jack Healey and Merrill Grim, went along with the city's legal advisor and denied two of the variance requests that were before them.

The two "rebels" were Thayer Lyons, senior in point of service on the commission, and Dale Scott, the most junior member.

Lyons in voting to "overrule" the city attorney submitted that during his 12-year tenure as a commissioner, he had acted on hundreds of variance requests. This was the first time, he said, that the city attorney had ruled such actions were illegal.

Scott, executive director of the Santa Clara Taxpayers Association and a commissioner for only three months, was even more outspoken in his opposition to Bonacina's decision.

He said that Bonacina, in effect, meant that the commission had no authority to grant variances. He took issue

Tourney starts for Pony League

Campbell-Moreland Pony League puts its regional title on the line tonight (Wednesday) in taking on Utah/Idaho sectional champion.

Action begins at 5:30 p.m. at the Castro Jr. High diamond located on W. Campbell Ave.

This regional tournament a is a four team affair featuring the host team (C-M), another local team (Section II), plus a northern California nine and the Utah/Idaho champion.

It is the highest level Pony League tourney ever staged in the West Valley, and is only one step removed from World Series competition.

On Monday evening Campbell-Moreland hosted a banquet for all tourney players and team officials at Campbell's Cherry Lane school.

Featured speaker was Dr. William Gustafson from San Jose State College.

Baseball activity began Tuesday when Section I & II champs tangled nose to nose. At press time the results were not known.

Pony baseball continues tomorrow night when Tuesday and Wednesday losers face each other in a last chance showdown to determine which team will remain in the tourney.

Two game losers are automatically eliminated.

On Friday night Tuesday and Wednesday winners meet. The winner will get a bye until Sunday's action. The single Saturday game pits Thursday's winner against Friday's loser, eliminating another nine.

In the Sunday wrapup only one game will be necessary, unless the loser was previously undefeated.

In that case there will be a second and concluding contest to determine the regional champ.

Street projects head council agenda monday

Two vital street improvement projects will be in the City Council's agenda next Monday, August 12. One will affect Hamilton Ave. from Bascom west and the other Campbell Ave.

In addition, Fred Sahadi, who three months ago proposed that the civic center be placed in the first five floors of a 17-story tower, is scheduled to report to the Council as to what effect any lengthy delay caused by research and study will have on development plans for the property at Bascom and Campbell avenues.

On the street front, the Council is expected on Monday to award the contract for the widening of Hamilton Ave. from Bascom to the freeway, including the bridge. Bids will be opened on Thursday and the engineer's estimate is $135.000 for the job.

Editorial

Which way to go?

Undoubtedly the City of Campbell must soon face up officially to a situation that could have a far-reaching effect on the future of this community.

We refer, of course, to the direction this city is officially going to take on the dramatic 17-story civic center tower proposal.

At the present time, a sort of a "recess" in the action exists while the city awaits the definite word from the developers, Fred Sahadi and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel, as to what effect a lengthy delay will have on their development time-table.

Attorneys for the city (the city attorney plus bonding counsel) have agreed that considerable time of necessity must elapse before the attorneys can give their legal nod for the city to go ahead with negotiations with the developers.

The legal advisors maintain that it will take a long time, relatively speaking, for them to check out all the legal nooks and crannies that apparently are involved in the unique civic center proposal.

It is because the project is so unique that the legal beagles are so concerned. There is no precedent to go by and thus they must feel their own legal way, so to speak.

They want to get as many answers as possible before they make any recommendation as to the legality of the proposal.

They submit that such an investigation obviously is going to take time and the attorneys want to be sure that the developers are prepared to wait it out.

It is implied, of course, by this suggestion that should the developers be unwilling to wait, it would serve no useful purpose for the city to continue with any negotiations or investigations.

An answer from the developers on this time table problem is expected by next week.

Should the developers in effect say that they cannot wait on a lengthy legal delay, the assumption is then, of course, that the civic center tower proposal in finished.

On the other hand, should the developers agree to wait until the legal people are satisfied, that will necessitate a number of other important decisions by the City Council.

The first one, of course, will be whether the tower question should be referred to the electorate as an advisory issue.

If the Council feels that is the way to go, (and indications seem to point that way), the decision must be made this month in order to get the advisory issue on the November ballot.

Obviously an "advisory issue" is what the name implies. There is no official mandate involved, no matter what the election results might be.

However, just as obviously, if there is either an overwhelming approval or disapproval, it is a good bet that the City Council will not take the opposite point of view, regardless how the individual councilmen might feel personally.

Should the results, however, nip and tuck or tuck and nip, the Council will be faced with a king-sized dilemma.

This paper editorially happens to believe that the civic center tower concept, as presented by the developers, will give this community a needed "shot-in-the-arm" that is long over-due.

Despite the concern of many who are involved with present so-called "downtown core", we believe that the civic tower, and the adjacent commercial-cultural center that is planned as part of the same development, will improve the business climate of the present downtown area.

We have been a close observer of the downtown scene for more than 12 years. In our opinion, having a civic center located in that immediate area, will not provide the answer that we all have been seeking these many years.

The city hall, the library and the business office of the school district have been located in the so-called downtown area for a number of years, yet the downtown area has continued to deteriorate.

Granting that new civic center buildings will be a definite improvement, does it necessarily follow that the civic center buildings will radically change the economic picture?

We don't think so.

But we do sincerely believe that a bold and dramatic civic center concept, as suggested by a 17-story tower at Campbell and Bascom avenues, less than a half-mile from the present city hall, will provide the needed impetus to get the entire town moving, including the so-called downtown Campbell.

THIS TRIVIA MAY BE boring to you. But, as we told you, we have to justify in some way the time we took exploring the new city directory.

Maybe our humor is a little bit warped but we even enjoyed the brief descriptions ("courtesy Chamber of Commerce") that described each of the cities that appear in the directory, especially when they are compared to the ones that appeared in the two other directories (1958 and 1965) that are in the office.

Naturally the descriptions had to be changed to some extent in the last 10 years (and also the last three) because of the growth that has taken place, although the topographical and geographical points should have remained constant

Take the elevation as a f'instance.

Don Hebard, the former Citizens for Progress chairman that so successfully campaigned for the civic bond issue last fall, has long deplored the fact that Campbell has no hill within the city limits.

We have news for Don.

Maybe there is a hill around we haven't seen.

In 1958 the elevation of Campbell was listed as 113 feet above sea level while in 1968 the elevation is 200 feet.

That's an 87-foot rise.

But, according to the directory, the churches apparently haven't kept up with the growth.

In 1958 with a population of 12,000 the book reports that there were 18 churches. The 1968 directory lists the population as approximately 23,000 with 19 churches, one more than in 1958.

By the way, the directory also shows that Los Gatos gained 20-feet in height (from 408 to 428) in the past 10 years.

BUT THERE WAS A change in the Los Gatos description that we felt was appropriate and indicative of the changes that have been wrought in the last decade.

You might say it tells a story.

Or you might also call it a 10-year history of the area wrapped up in one brief paragraph.

The 1958 paragraph in the directory reads:

"Hillsides are covered with madrone, oak, sycamore and redwood. From March through May, peach, apricot, prune and almond orchards bloom in spectacular beauty."

In 1965:

"Hillsides are covered with madrone, oak, sycamore and redwood. From March through May, prune and almond orchards bloom."

In 1968:

"Hillsides are covered with madrone, sycamore and redwood."

Well, at least the hills are left.

SLIGHTLY CONFUSING was a name situation at the recent City Council hearing on the future land use plan for the area adjacent to the San Tomas Expressway.

Bob Sneed, of 241 Victor, was present at the hearing and spoke in favor of the plan for the specific area as recommended by the Planning Commission which had reduced some of the high density zones that had previously been suggested by the planning consultant.

Mayor Bill Smeed presided at the hearing.

Councilman Ed Rogers in attempting to answer a question raised by Sneed understandably became slightly confused with Sneed and Smeed.

But he managed to put 'em in the right spot.

A sort of who's on first routine.

NEWSPAPER PEOPLE, although they dread typographical errors, after a while learn to live with 'em. They become somewhat immune to the mistakes that are bound to occur, realizing that we all make them.

Sometimes even a correction of an error places more emphasis on it than the original mistake.

We thought of that the other day as we chuckled over a correction made in a news release from the University of California, Santa Cruz. The news item reported the appointment of Phillip W. Bell as provost of the new Merrill College at UCSC.

The mimeographed report had been changed in ink in one spot.

In describing Bell's background, it noted that he had been in the US Air Force.

But the original release, which had been changed, listed it as the "UC Air Force".

Well, there were times in recent years that maybe Cal should have had its own air force.

City attorney

with that concept. He maintained that the city attorney instead of making any oral opinions on the variance question should put it in writing.

A motion at the close of the discussion by Scott that the city attorney prepare a written report on the subject by Sept. 3 was approved. The motion also continued the height limitation variance request submitted by Fred Sahadi. He had asked that the present ceiling of 75-feet be increased to 250-feet for structures on property at Bascom and Campbell avenues where a 17-story office building is planned.

Although the motion was passed unanimously, the continuation on the hearing or the height variance, it was pointed out, would be a useless action, based on the city attorney's ruling.

Bonacina had indicated that it would be necessary to change the ordinance. A variance was not enough.

However, Scott's motion to direct the city attorney to prepare such an amendment for the Sept. 3 meeting was voted down by the same 4-2 split that had been in effect all evening.

Sahadi maintained that it was necessary to discover if the city would allow a 250-foot high office building. He said he had been informed by city personnel that a variance was the proper method to use. He was willing, he said, to go the ordinance route, however, if that had to be done.

But it was imperative for him and his fellow-developers to know if the height would be permitted.

OTHER VARIANCE

Although Sahadi's request for a height variance from 75-feet to 250-feet, took the spotlight at the meeting, it was the request of Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Hamm, of 916 Torero Plaza, for a variance from 3½-feet height to 5½-feet height for a fence on the side yard of their property that preceded the Sahadi request and set the stage.

The Hamms wanted to raise the height of the fence on their corner lot property to give them more usable yard room. He even had slides of the area to bolster his case.

The city staff had recommended denial of the variance because the fence would be unattractive and could have a detrimental effect on other property and that it was not a condition peculiar to the lot.

Then Bonacina made his ruling. And the vote (4-2) was taken.

Thus when Sahadi came to bat next, the issue was pretty much decided. Bonacina, however, ruled right at the start that he had the same observation for the Sahadi request. It was not within the province of the commission to act on it.

Sahadi took the floor to challenge Bonacina's ruling.

In the heat of the discussion, Sahadi referred to Bonacina's pending resignation in an uncomplimentary way.

He was reprimanded immediately by Commissioner Healey and apologized.

However, at the close of the discussion, Chairman Frank Klein raised the hackles of Sahadi. The developer had asked for direction by the commission as to which way he should move. Apparently the variance was the wrong way, he said, so what was the right way?

Klein merely said he should try something else and went to the next item on the agenda as Sahadi turned on his heel and left the room.

Bonacina in the third variance case before the commission, ruled that it was "proper" to act on it. Thereupon the commissioners approved the request of James A Saeger, at 1586 Adrien Dr. for a variance from 9-feet to 6-feet in sideyard setback to allow a second story addition to his house.

Beautification campaign signs up six firms

The Campbell Citizens for Beautification campaign steps into high gear this week with a Thursday morning meeting of more than 40 of the judges who will make preliminary decisions as to the current beautification effort being made in the Campbell business area.

City Council chambers is the setting for the 10 a.m. meeting where chairman Mrs. Jeanette Watson and members of her executive committee will explain to the volunteers their role in the program.

Three local business men will hold a panel to discuss some of the problems that local business people face in their everyday routine to maintain a landscaped area.

In their campaign to "dress up" the city, the Beautification Committee has sent letters to 47 local service clubs who might wish to offer their services and also compete for local recognition in the service category.

The CCB has entered the National Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up contest competing with other cities throughout the nation of comparable size who are conducting a campaign for four months or longer.

Early entrants in the business beautification category are: Bee Hive Lounge, 260 E. Campbell Ave., Breuners, 525 E. Hamilton, Cambrian Animal Hospital, 130 Curtner Ave., Ken Mantle and Al LaPlante, New York Life, 373 E. Campbell Ave., Wells Fargo Bank and Spivey's Coffee Shop, 2028 Winchester Blvd.

Carl Kuhn, committee secretary, urges the prompt return by businesses of their interest form to aid the volunteer judges.

Contest winners will be announced at the Chamber of Commerce fall kick-off luncheon, Sept. 26.

Lorraine Ann Bingham and James Mitchell Veal recently exchanged their nuptial vows in a double ring ceremony at St. Lucy's Church in Campbell.

Lorraine, eldest girl of ten children, included all her nine brothers and sisters in the wedding party.

Rev. Charles Simpson read the nuptial Mass, assisted by altar boy John Bingham, brother of the bride.

For her wedding, she wore a long sleeved white satin gown, empire styled with an overskirt and train of lace. Her long bouffant veil was held in place by a rhinestone tiara. She carried a white missal, covered with a cascade bouquet of white carnations, centered with a white orchid.

In her role as maid of honor, Margaret Bingham wore a buttercup yellow Tresella cloth empire styled gown with a lace trimmed bodice and matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of yellow daisies. Bridesmaid Patricia Bingham was similarly attired.

Junior Bridesmaids Lucille Bingham and Lynn Dudey wore identical gowns of pale yellow and carried small bouquets of yellow daisies.

Barbara and Ann Bingham, flower girls, also wore pale yellow long gowns and carried nosegays of white daisies.

Paul Childs served as best man, while ushering duties were performed by Pfc. Michael Bingham, Donald Bingham, Jr. and Charles LaMarca, Jr. Ring bearer was William Bingham.

Mrs. Donald Bingham, mother of the bride, witnessed the ceremony attired in a green crepe sheath with lace overcoat and wore a corsage of white carnations, as did the groom's mother, Mrs. Lynn Connel of Waldo Road, who selected a costume of pink crepe.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bingham, 2162 Anthony Dr.

Honored guests for the occasion were Lorraine's great grandmother, Mrs. Laura McComas of Turlock and her great aunt, Mrs. Margaret Kennedy of Chicago.

Following a southern California honeymoon, the young couple are residing in Los Gatos. James is attending Manpower Development Training School at San Jose City College and Lorraine is employed by P.G.&E. She graduated from Westmont High School and her groom attended Campbell High School.

BIG SUR BOUND

Two Junior Troops, 211 and 178, are working on final plans for their week long camping trip at Big Sur, August 11-18. Preparations actually started several months ago with a rummage sale to provide funds to support this trip. The parents who provide transportation for the approximately 30 girls, plan to take a picnic lunch and spend the day with the girls and their leaders.

During their stay, the girls will have the opportunity to do badge work, crafts, hike and swim. Three Cadettes and one Senior Scout life guard will accompany the Jr's. Looks like "fun in the sun and pines" for the two Hazelwood troops.

TROOP 829

A beach party is in the offing for the San Tomas Jr.'s, Troop 829. They plan a fun filled day in the surf and sand at Natural Bridges State Park Aug. 28. The girls recently made colorful beach bags for this occasion and summer use. Sack lunches are in order for noon with a cook-out on the beach for the evening meal. They say "A little sand always aids in digestion!"

Leslie and Bruce exchange vows

Empire sheath of imported silk organza was the costume of Leslie Tomlin of Saratoga when she became the bride earlier this summer of Bruce Shimizu, also of Saratoga.

The wedding party included the bride's two sisters and the groom's sister. Matron of Honor was Mrs. Richard Cunningham; maid of honor was Julie Tomlin and bridesmaids were Cathy Tomlin, Kathy Shimizu and Lynn McKee. All were gowned in white.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Claude Tomlin, while her mother watched in a pink silk linen with matching coat. The groom's mother, Mrs. Roy Shimizu wore a yellow silk coat dress. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

Best man was Gordon Kubota, and ushers included Allen Shimizu, Tom Kirkendall, Winston Miller, Duane Mayfield, Myron Falkowski, and Joe Carroll.

Leslie will graduate from San Jose State next June and is currently employed at Old Town, Los Gatos. Bruce will graduate in January from San Jose State where he is a member of Alpha Omega Rho fraternity. He is employed by the Campbell High School District and graduated from Campbell High School in 1964.

Services were conducted in St. Andrews Episcopal Church by Rev. Roy Strasburger. Following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. F.M. Burke opened their home for the reception.

After a wedding trip to Carmel, the young couple are at home in Campbell.

David is serving in Viet Nam with the First Calvary Mechanized Unit at Qui Nhon. On his recent leave he married Kathy Maycumber, 2154 Miel, at Campbell First Methodist Church. The new Mrs. Taylor will reside with her parents and attend Westmont High School this fall.

While in service David completed his high school credits and before going overseas was working for college units.

SGT. EVERETT L. JACOBSON

Tin City, Alaska is Jacobson's next assignment. He leaves from Tacoma Aug. 13. The remote base is manned by about 100 men, and "no women" are allowed.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

In a ghetto of poverty in San Jose's east side is a shining example of the "don't talk-do something" philosophy of a very remarkable young Los Gatos physician–Dr. Hugh Schade.

Practicing medicine in a pleasant and affluent hillside community would be enough work and satisfaction for most men. But not Dr. Schade. To him it was obvious that a power struggle between various groups was not helping East San Jose's poor. His professional eye quickly saw the need of a medical clinic where the poor people live. The fine facilities at the County Hospital were too far from the indigent ill who were forced to rely upon inadequate public transportation.

So Dr. Schade turned on his "don't talk–do something" philosophy. "What can I do now?", he asked himself. The answer came back, "Go to the problem area and set up a medical clinic."

First, on low downpayment and long terms, he bought a small house next to a car wash at 11 King Road near Alum Rock Ave. It is surrounded by every ethnic group in the area. It is within walking distance of hundreds of people on welfare, many of whom have difficulty in getting medical care, even with Medi-Cal cards.

Dr. Schade personally cleaned up the house, painted it with the help of his wife, Mary, and two sons, Chris and Ted. He fitted it with the latest medical equipment and a cozy waiting room with stereo music. Then he hired a fulltime physician and complete staff and hung up a sign which reads, "East San Jose Medical Center."

He opened the door on July 1 with absolutely no publicity. The first week only two patients ventured in. Next it was three in a day and the numbers are growing rapidly. He is personally there in the mornings and goes to his private practice in the afternoons. In the evenings, between hospital emergency calls, he and his family install ceiling tile, paint and otherwise improve the physical properties of this unique private enterprise medical center. Gradually word of mouth advertising is spreading the word that this is not a "put on", but the real thing. Gradually the message is circulating that Dr. Schade will help the sick regardless of race, color, creed or economic status.

Speaking as one citizen, I intensely admire Dr. Schade and what he has done. Instead of waiting for high sounding slogans and expensive appropriations which flounder around in bureaucracy and political in-fighting, Dr. Schade of Los Gatos, his wife, and young family have done something about a specific problem.

Let us hope that his example will encourage other talented, successful people to personally involve themselves in a "people-to-people" war on poverty. It isn't enough for members of the so-called "establishment" to pay their taxes and then shrug off the war on poverty to be fought by those who will use it in a quest for personal power. Each citizen must become personally involved as Dr. Schade has!

Bands battle at fairgrounds

Electrifying sound from battling bands will be permeating the atmosphere around the Fiesta Hall outdoor stage at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds, Aug. 10 at 1 p.m.

Five bands are the finalists from the preliminary screening held last month. All of the bands will be appearing at the Fair, Aug. 16 - 25 in various talent events.

Each of the groups will play their own special type of amplified music, ranging from "acid rock" to "electric soul."

The winner will be chosen by a panel of impervious judges.

First prize in the competition is a contract to play at Frontier Village All Night Graduation Parties next spring. A Frontier Village representative will make the award presentation on Aug. 10.

The groups are: Free Lunch, Morgan Hill; Marble Arch, San Jose, Daily Sun, San Jose; Soultons, Santa Clara; and New Soul Express, San Martin.

LARK volunteers to tell goals at Thursday tea

Rich rewards await the men and women who are interested in combating illiteracy and in helping American born and foreign born adults to continue their education.

An orientation tea will be given by the Santa Clara County Chapter of the LARK (LITERACY for ADULTS and RELATED KNOWLEDGE) Foundation Thursday, Aug. 8 at 2 p.m. at Temple Emanu-el Youth Lounge, University and Myrtle Ave., San Jose, to show how volunteers can help sincerely interested, earnest people learn to speak, to read, to write English.

Mrs. Gordon Chambers, vice-president, announces that the program for the coming year will be outlined and the scope and the achievements of LARK's service will be discussed at the tea.

LARK is a non-profit organization where all teachers, teacher's aides, and officials are volunteers. In LARK's eight years of service here in Santa Clara County, many adults have been helped to achieve their goals in free day and night classes throughout the county.

Classes are attended by adults from Greece, Hong Kong, Japan, the Azores, Hungary, Spain, France, South America, Central America, as well as by Mexican Americans and Anglos.

'Good Sam' plans to add 35-beds

Plans for a 35-bed addition to The Good Samaritan Hospital of Santa Clara Valley, which serves the Campbell area, are being drawn today, as the result of a steady rise in patient census that prompted the volunteer board of directors to jump the gun on master planning which calls for more beds in the early 1970's.

Campbell men on the board include Joseph M. Dahl and Noel J. Brown.

The tentative master plan was geared to predictions made from surveys conducted prior to the opening of the non-profit community hospital in 1965. However, a steady rise in patient census peaked in late June and early July, resulting in overcrowding. At times, patients were put in beds that were placed in treatment rooms. When there was a sudden influx of emergency patients, some beds were placed in hallways until rooms were available.

As a result, the board authorized the firm of Anshen and Allen, A.I.A., to commence architectural planning of an addition which may be constructed within a year. It will be for temporary use for medical-surgical patients and later will be converted to an addition to the psychiatric unit.

The planned addition is of one-story construction, and may be built at less expense and faster than the additions to the tower unit, which contains permanent medical-surgical units.

Kimberly Scroggins, daughter of Campbell High School teacher L.M. and Mrs. Scroggins, 18322 Montpere Way, Saratoga, is attending University of Oslo, Norway, International Summer School.

Kim won first prize in the 6th district, Sons of Norway Scholarship program.

When she returns for a short visit with her family Aug. 14, she will prepare to leave again for University of Florence, Italy, where she has been accepted by the California State College International Program to study during the 1968-69 school year.

A former Campbell high school student, Kim graduated from Westmont high school in 1965 and is a junior at San Jose State College, majoring in drama, with minors in music and Italian.

During her short vacation between studies, she will visit with her brother, Mike, recently discharged from the army signal corps, who is currently living in Santa Cruz and who will attend Cabrillo College this fall. Mike, a Viet Nam veteran, is a 1958 Campbell high graduate.

Registration for the fall semester will be by appointment and held on August 29, 30 and September 3, and 4, Edman said.

Thus far, over 4,000 students planning on attending daytime classes have already met with their counselors and planned their programs. Edman added.

Meanwhile, Nero Pruitt, Dean of Extended Day, or evening sessions, also reminded new and entering students in that division that they may obtain their permits to register between 5 and 8:30 p.m. on the following dates: August 21, 22, 26 and 27, by reporting to Room A-8; Prospective students must present their Social Security cards, for identification purposes, at this time.

Instruction in both day and evening classes will begin Tuesday, Sept. 10.

West Valley College board adopts $7 million budget

The West Valley College Board of Trustees adopted a general fund budget of $7,079,269, and a special reserve budget of $3,220,816, for building and equipment purchases, at its deliberations last Thursday.

The final general fund budget was $10,000 higher than that which it had been earlier discussing, with the additional sum set aside for rentals, in the event that additional classroom space is needed in the fall semester.

This possibility was raised by the statement that to date 4,555 day students had taken permits to register, and there was a marked increase being shown in veterans enrollments under the new G.I. Bill of Rights.

Some minor changes were also made in other budget items, but since these funds involved the undistributed reserve, no changes in the overall final budget figures resulted.

The Board was also happily surprised to learn that preliminary assessed valuation figures for 1968-69 for the college district area is now estimated at about $645,563,450, up some $44,000,000 from the 1967-68 figures and $10,000,000 from the previous budget estimates. These estimates had projected a 5 per cent increase instead of the 7.55 per cent actually resulting, according to Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president.

Dr. Hall also reported that the recent visit of an evaluation team to West Valley College had resulted in a three-year re-accreditation being granted to the college, through June 30, 1971.

He also reported that the college had received approval of all eight applications submitted for Federal Vocational Education funds under the Act of 1963, in the amount of $85,518.

Dr. Hall also reported he was in the process of working out an agreement with other junior college districts in the area, within the already-existing Inter-District agreements, to enable out-of-district musicians to perform with the West Valley College Symphony Orchestra.

In other matters, the Board: Approved claims totaling $52,970.56.

Authorized award of bid for purchase of a tractor for $8,129.38 to the Hoyt and Buettner Tractor Co.

Signed an agreement with Roper Research Associates to conduct a survey to "determine attitudes toward the importance of college education for California high school graduates, the nature and type of college plans among parents who believe they will send their children to college when they are old enough, attitudes and knowledge of West Valley College itself...."

The survey will be conducted in conjunction with Edward L. Bernays, noted public relations expert, previously called in by the Board to make a one-year study of the long-range problems and needs of the college.

Nominated Trustee William J. Homan as a candidate for California School Boards Association Delegate Assembly.

Approved appointment of two new faculty members for 1968-69, Stephen W. Bordi, physical education and William Sheehan, English-Journalism.

Appointed two new classified employees, Kathleen Ruh, Instruction Office clerk-typist, and Barbara Jean Allen, Library Clerk, and accepted the resignation of Mrs. Betty Marie Bradler, typist in Instruction Office and Dr. Patricia Grinager, who had been employed as an instructor in anthropology for the 1968-69 school year, and had requested a release from her contract because of her impending marriage.

GALLERY VACATION

Nadine B. Peterson, publicity chairman, announces that the Los Gatos Art Association Gallery will be closed during the month of August. The Gallery will reopen Sept. 1.

Helen Andres again heads fund drive

Mrs. Helen Andres, Campbell Union High School District assistant superintendent, will solicit United Fund contributions from Campbell educators for the fourth consecutive year during this fall's local campaign, beginning Sept. 13.

Her appointment as education division chairman was announced by Campbell campaign chairman Robert E. Harrison, plant manager of IBM's IRD Division.

During the 10th anniversary appeal Mrs. Andres and other local volunteers will be seeking to reach their $50,198 community goal. This is more than $4,000 above the 1967 target figure. Throughout the county a 10 percent overall increase in desired goals has been set by the UF Board of Trustees.

A $3,181,401 target figure has been established for Santa Clara County to help support 81 non-profit health, welfare, research and youth-oriented agencies. The increase is attributed to the need for a higher degree of concentrated funds in the county's poverty areas and the addition of six new agencies to the UF registry.

Active in UF volunteer work since 1959, Mrs. Andres has served on the board of directors of several UF agencies, including the Visiting Nurse Association and Eastfield. She is past president of California Association of School Personnel Administrators.

She resides at 1697 Grizolo Dr., San Jose, with her husband, Eugene C. Andres, Jr. They have two sons and a daughter.

The girls are going south!

"The girls" are the Moreland Bobby Sox Major All Stars who swept their way to victory in the First Annual Santa Clara Valley Bobby Sox Tournament held at Dartmouth Jr. High, July 25 and 26

In a double header on July 25, the Moreland All Stars won their first game with West Valley by a score of 22-4. Next they played Blossom Ridge with a victory of 31-7. On Friday, July 26 they again defeated West Valley 27-2.

The girls, ages 12-15, are managed by Mary Miailovich. This will be the second championship team managed by the Miailovich family. Mary's husband, Bob, is well known in West Valley as the manager who led the 1962 Moreland All Star Little League Team to Williamsport, Pa., where they captured the 1962 World Championship. Assisting Mary were Coaches Mary Lou Levering, Sharon Childress and Kathy Siino.

The Moreland Bobby Sox All Stars will now represent Santa Clara Valley State Tournament to be held Aug. 14,15, 16,17 at George Bellis Park in Buena Park, "south" California.

Any contributions to help defray the cost of the round trip for the girls and their coaches would be gratefully accepted. Checks should be made payable to Moreland Bobby Sox % Mrs. Mary Kelley, Treasurer, 717 Rockwood, San Jose 95129, or contact Wally Anderson, president, 379-2269.

VFW schedules big fun frolic

Donkey baseball, donkey polo, musical barrels and the search for the homeliest man in the county are some of the "fun" things on the agenda for Campbell VFW Post 6305's Fun Frolic next Sunday at the Campbell High School.

Proceeds from the 1:30 p.m. event will go to the post's hospital and rehabilitation fund, says Joseph Zampiceni, chairman, who can be reached for ticket information at 264-1440.

Local merchants are participating by distributing free tickets and refreshments will be available.

RABIES CLINIC

Anti-rabies clinic will be held Saturday, Aug. 10 in the parking lot of the Santa Clara County Health Department on Moorpark and Bascom Aves. San Jose.

PRETTY FAIR TALENT--Kathy Maples, 21, will be on hand at the 24th annual Santa Clara County Fair to serenade Fairgoers. Kathy will sing during the 10 days of the Fair, Aug. 16-25. Other talented groups from the County will be featured in a variety of events.

Lutheran school registers now

Three Lutheran Church schools are combining under one principal for the fall term and are taking registrations this week for the Sept. 3 opening.

Lutheran Church of Our Savior, Trinity Lutheran and St. Mark Lutheran plan to conduct eight grades of school by splitting the grades among the three locations. Martin Borkenhagen will serve as principal to eight teachers in the system.

Registration is being conducted today at the Leigh Ave. church (Trinity) and tomorrow in Sunnyvale at St. Mark's.

"Customer" pulls gun at market

The customer who walked up to clerk Vando Bertaccini of Pep's Sooperb Sooper, 980 E. Campbell Ave. last Thursday night, didn't really want groceries.

Instead, he brandished a "blue steel revolver" and instructed Bertaccini to empty his cash drawer into a bag and lie down on the floor. As Bertaccini complied, the bandit escaped on foot out of the front door and was reported to have been seen going toward a Bascom Ave. antique shop.

Campbell police, in cooperation with other law enforcement agencies, are currently interrogating a suspect, believed to have been responsible for a number of valley robberies.

Bikes top list

Summer robberies, according to Campbell police records, seem to center largely on the theft of bicycles and electronic equipment.

In addition to a large number of bikes "missing", a tape recorder and tapes were taken trailer was broken into in Hamilton Trailer Park, and a TV, stereo and radio were reported stolen; a radio, tape recorder and cameras, 200 W. Hamilton, and a radio from 621 E. Campbell Ave.

Since January, value of bikes stolen has been nearly $5000, with approximately $2400 recovered.

OTHER ACTIONS

Although the variance requests highlighted the evening, the commission approved the plans for a service station submitted by Union Oil Co. located at Harrison and Central and also the plans submitted by Robert Keesling for a storage yard for boats and trailers at 1481 S. Bascom Ave., just north of Hamilton and directly across the street from the Ainsley property that is in San Jose.

The planners continued until their next meeting action on the plans for a commercial building submitted by Ira Kirkorian and located on W. Campbell Ave. adjacent to the Straw Hat. Kirkorian said he would "dress up" the plans as requested by the next meeting, although the shed roof would remain.

THE FAIREST OF THEM ALL--Terri Buck, 18, (center) will reign as the 1968 Queen of the Santa Clara County Fair. She was chosen Saturday from 10 girls who represented various areas of the County. Terri was Miss Almaden. Two princesses were also chosen from the bevy of beauties. On Miss Buck's right is Miss Los Gatos, 17 year-old Rosemary Hannah. On the Queen's right is Connie McCory, 17, Miss Milpitas. The three girls will reign over the Fair, Aug. 16-25.

MRS. STANFORD CELEBRATES

At a luncheon hosted by Mrs. Ward Brannon of Andrea Ct., Mrs. Gertrude Stanford of North Central Ave., enjoyed one of several celebrations of her 94th birthday recently.

Later, son Richard Stanford of Lafayette hosted a garden party luncheon for 20, where a fancy cherry cake was Mrs. Stanford's delight to cut.

At the Brannon gathering, other guests included Mrs. George Robson and Mrs. Hughann Leigh Cross. Mrs. Stanford is currently preparing the text of a book of Campbell memories.

Fourteen at family party

When the 14 children of the late Fritz and Mathilda Roeder Ersch gathered in Fredericksburg, Texas, recently, it was the first time in 17 years that they had all been together, reports Campbell's contribution to the celebration, Betty Kidd of Kidd's Charcoal Broiler.

Mrs. Kidd's father was the Fredericksburg deputy sheriff before his death in 1943. All of the children were "farm-raised" and six of them now make their home in California. Ages span 25 years. There are four boys and ten girls, one set of twins. Among them they count 28 children and 23 grandchildren.
